

Joining 2 simple sentence into a Compound Sentence

Types of conjunction

CONJUNCTION

1.

- Co-ordinate conjunction

2.

- Sub-ordinate conjunction

Joining by co-ordinate Conjunction

Occasion	Conjunction	examples
Cumulative (+ and +)	<ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. And /as well as</li><li>2. Both --- and</li><li>3. Not only -- But also</li></ol>	<ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. Ram will go and Shyam will go there</li><li>2. Both Ram and Shyam will be there</li><li>3. Not only Ram but also Shyam will go there</li></ol>
Adversative (+ and ---)	<ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. But</li><li>2. However</li><li>3. Yet</li></ol>	<ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. Ram will not go but Shyam will go</li><li>2. Ram will not go however Shyam will go</li><li>3. Ram will not go yet Shyam will go</li></ol>
Alternative ( + or -- )	<ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. Or</li><li>2. Either ----- or</li><li>3. Neither ----- nor</li></ol>	<ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. Ram or shyam will go.</li><li>2. Either Ram will go or Shyam will go</li><li>3. Neither Ram will go nor Shyam will go</li></ol>
Illative (Conclusive)	<ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. So</li><li>2. Therefore</li></ol>	<ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. So everybody will be there</li><li>2. Therefore, everybody will be present</li></ol>

Sub-ordinate Conjunction

	INDICATING	LINK	EXAMPLE
1.	Time	When/While/before /after/since/till /until	He reached the station when it was raining
2.	Place	Where	He reached the place where the accident took place
3	Cause	As	He reached there by foot as there was no bus
4	Condition	If	He will reach if you go
5	Result	So - that	The fire was so great that everything was destroyed
6	Contrast	Even if /though	The fire was great even though everything is safe
7	Purpose	So that	Please reach there so that you can avoid rain

Sub-ordinate Conjunction

Subordinate Clause

Therefore, A Complex Sentence
Not A Compound Sentence

Note : always uses co-ordinate conjunction to make compound sentences